

INCOGNITO

A solo performance

Written & Performed by
Michael Fosberg

The program is unique in that it is a One-Man Play, is a true story, and deals with a number of very important social issues such as race, diversity, stereotyping, identity, finding a father, family history, adoption, & divorce.

Michael portrays about a dozen different characters as he takes the audience on a "journey" across time and place.

REVIEWS

"A MUST-SEE! Michael Fosberg is a writer and performer who regales us with a fascinating, humorous, touching, and ultimately very universal story about the search for one's roots...a sincere and talented storyteller, with something meaningful to say"

-Rick Reed, Windy City Times

"When we go to the theater, we enter a world of storytellers, Michael Fosberg is one such storyteller, and the extraordinary tale he has to tell us in his one-man drama INCOGNITO is all the more compelling because it is true and it is his own."

-Richard Christiansen, Chicago Tribune
